PREFACE.

Only a newspaper! Quick read, quick lost, Who sums the treasure that is carried hence? Torn, trampled under feet, who counts thy cost Star-eyed intelligence?—Clemmer.

Carlyle first recognized the reality of an empire of daily printed thought and forged the name-plate of the fourth estate. Newspapers are the citizens of this realm and each year sees rapid growth and many changing conditions.

This volume is the official directory of this realm. It tells the names, and somewhat more, of its citizens. It gives their places of residence; it tells of their comings and goings. It is the newspaper history of a year condensed into a classified arrangement of facts!

The unit of newspaper power is circulation. The co-efficient is influence. Right use of these two qualities means effective advertising. Pettingill's Newspaper Directory and Gazetteer will help you to solve any advertising equation that may be presented.

Each year successful advertising, which shapes, handles and directs the world power—publicity—assumes a greater importance in the nation's trade and commerce. The past year has had its record of great business enterprises established by advertising; it has also its record of failures. We are thankful that the latter list is short and the list of successes long and honorable. We are ready to close the account of the past and look forward to the future.

The successful advertiser studies advertising mediums. He knows circulation and influence. He knows the value of advertising space. He knows local conditions three thousand miles from his office as though they were in his home ward. Therefore, he is able, to a large extent, to forecast results.

Results! The magic word of advertising success.

PETTINGILL'S NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY AND GAZETTEER is the standard text-book of advertising mediums. It will help advertisers attain results. It is filled with vital statistics of every important newspaper and 12 PREFACE.

periodical in the United States and Canada. It presents these facts in a concise form. It also gives facts concerning local conditions.

This volume, in fact, presents, in shape available for instant reference, the results of twelve months of careful research by trained specialists in this work. We believe that it is more complete and accurate than ever before.

We are proud of Pettingill's Newspaper Directory and Gazetteer for 1903. We believe it will prove the most useful, convenient, helpful book of its kind ever laid open on the desks of the advertising managers of America.

EXPLANATION

NEWSPAPER REPORTS.

It is the aim of the publishers of Pettingill's Newspaper Directory and Gazetteer to report correctly every legitimate publication issued in the United States, and if there are errors or omissions it is because we have been unable to secure the necessary information from the publishers. Immediately upon the completion of one volume, work is commenced on the revision of the succeeding issue. Blank circulars are prepared and mailed to every publication rated in the previous edition, as well as to such new ones as have been established during the previous year. These circulars contain the report and circulation statement as it appeared in the last edition, and the publisher is requested to make such corrections as may be necessary to insure an accurate and reliable report and rating.

CIRCULATION RATINGS.

In the matter of circulation ratings we have adopted a system, which, it seems to us, is fair to both publishers and advertisers, and under no consideration will a publication be rated differently from the rules laid down below or from the statements sent in, provided always that they be in accordance with the rules governing the work. Our definition of the word circulation is embodied in the following paragraph, and it is understood that all ratings, whether sworn to or otherwise, must be based on this understanding:

"The legitimate circulation of a publication is the number of complete copies of each issue used to supply its subscribers, news companies, newsboys and office sales, and such sample copies (not to exceed 10 per cent of the total output for any one issue), as are legitimately used for the purpose of securing new sub-Returned, spoiled or unsold copies must be scribers. deducted."

Under our system of reports and ratings a circular was sent on Jan. Ist to every publication rated in the 1902 edition, with the request for a new report and rating for the 1903 edition. The replies received to this circular were divided into three classes, and the publication rated in accordance with the statements furnished, thus

First Class.-The publication for which we received a Sworn Statement in Detail for the full year, is rated first class. Such ratings are indicated by the use of bold face figures, preceded by a figure one in a circle, thus: 1-21876.

Second Class.-The publication for which we received a Sworn Statement (Not in Detail) for the full year, is rated second class. Such ratings are indicated by the use of bold face figures, preceded by a figure two in a circle, thus: 2-21876.

Third Class.-The publication for which we received a statement or claim (unsupported by affidavit) is rated third class. Such ratings are in Roman figures and are preceded by a figure three in a circle, thus: 3-21876.

Fourth Class.-Where no statement or claim was based on such information as he possessed or was able to gather from other sources. Such ratings are in Roman figures, preceded by a figure four in a circle. thus: 4-21876. All such estimates were made in advance and the figures sent to the publishers for verification, and as there was no reply received, it was held to indicate that the estimate was at least sufficient if not too high

NEWSPAPER ABBREVIATIONS

The following abbreviations are used in the newspaper reports: Ind.—Independent; Dem.—Democratic; Rep.-Republican; Pop.-Populist; Non-Pol.-Non-Political; 8p-8 pages; Circ.-Circulation; Mo,-Monthly; Si-mo,-Semi-Monthly; Quar.-Quarterly, EXPLANATION OF GAZETTEER MATTER.

County seats are indicated by the use of an asterisk () immediately following the name of the place, thus: ROSTON*

†The figures immediately following the names of places give the population, according to the government census of 1900, with the exception of such states as have since taken a state census, in which case the state census figures are used; other exceptions to this rule have been made in the many places which have enjoyed a phenomenal growth during the past decade, in such cases the population figures have been taken from the local school census; all such estimates are indicated by the use of a dagger (†) immediately following the figures. The figures giving county population are practically all from the government census of 1900-the only exception being in counties where the population of its leading city had outgrown the population of the county as given in the census reports of 1900; all such figures have also been taken from the local school census and are indicated by the use of a dagger (†) immediately following the figures.

The abbreviations used for the railroads are those ordinarily employed by railroad people in their folders and guides.

The best (highest price) hotel is the one usually given, except in the larger cities where a popular price or "Commercial" house is given,

The valuations are taken both from the local and government reports, and while they do not always give the exact wealth of a city, they give a clear idea which will be found useful for commercial purposes.

POINTS FOR PUBLISHERS.

1st.-All sworn statements must be sworn to before a notary public, a justice of the peace, a magistrate or some officer properly qualified to administer an oath. and must bear his official seal.

2d.-All statements, whether sworn to or otherwise. must be signed with a pen by the publisher.

3d.-Unless a new statement of circulation is furnished for each edition, the statement appearing in the made the editor of the Directory supplied an estimate previous edition will be used and rated fourth class.

$57,000,000. State debt, $11,992,619. Vote in 1900; Dem. 97131; Rep. 55512; Prop. 4178; Pro. 2762. Alabama is bounded on the north by Temessee; on the east by Georgia; on the south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico and on the west by Mississippl. From the mountains in the northeastern portion, the surface gradually slopes southward, except in the Temessee valley, and all the middle and southern sections are low and level. The state is drained by the Temessee river in the north, by the Alabama and Tombigbee in the centre and southerstand by the Chatahoochee in the southeast. In the Temessee valley is the great cereal belt of the state; vast stores of iron and coal are found in the mountainous northeast; south of there is an immense tract of fertile soil stretching away across the state and known as the Black belt, where immense crops of cotton are raised; and all along the coast are sandy plains known as the Piney woods region, where are great forests of pine, magnelia, sweet bay, live oak and cypress. Lumber, rosin and turpentine are exported from this region. Agriculture furnishes employment to 400,000 people, on 140,000 farms, valued at $80,000,000, Over 700,000 bales of cotton and 40,000,000 busheds of cereals are produced on the farms every year and the total annual value of the farm products is $57,000,900. Iron and coal are found in immense, quantities in the mineral region and what is of the greatest advantage, near together. The production of pig-iron has increased in the last decade till there are 50 blast furnaces annually producing 1,000,000 tons of pig-iron and in this business Alabama ranks slate and limestone. Within a few years the state has made rapid strides in unanufactures, till now it is becommended to a manufacturing than an agricultural state. The principal colon manufacture still now it is becoming nor of a manufacturing than an agricultural state. The principal critical minantafactures, till now it is becoming nor of a manufacturing than an agricultural state. The principal critical mina

Arizona is bounded on the north by Utah; on the east by New Mexico; on the south by Mexico and on the west by Nevada and California. This territory was once the home of the cliff dwellers and many of their villages, canals and other works reman. It has been the home of herce bands of Indians for centuries, particularly the Apaches, and there are several reservations within the territory at present. Lofty mountains sweep diagonally across the territory, in several parallel ranges, the general direction being toward the northwest. The highest are the San Francisco mountains, in the north, (12000 feet) and the loftiest peak, Mount San Francisco (1256) feet. The northern portion is dotted with volcanic meass, from 3000 to 7500 feet high. The territory is drained by the Colorado and Gilarivers. The former has worn its way through the plateau of the northwest, forming the Grand Canon of the Colorado, the world's greatest gorge and one of its most marvelous scenic features. The Canon is 220 miles long and varies in depth from 1000 to 7000 feet. There are numerous plateaus, cross gorges and buttes and the ever varying succession of these features, with the dazzling arrays of colors presented by the different strata of rock render it picturesque and beautiful beyond comparison. Chalcador, park in the northwest, and the ever varying succession of these features, with the dazzling arrays of colors presented by the different strata of rock render it picturesque and beautiful beyond comparison. Chalcador, park in the northwest of the territory is a tract of 2000 acres, covered with fragments of perticular frees in a variety of beautiful colors. A variety of precious stones are found here and many have been sent east to be finished. In Arkansas is bounded on the north by Missouri; on the cast by Missouri, The Sassippi; on the south by Louisiana and Texas and on the west by Texas and Indian Territory. The state is mountainous in the northern and western parts and low and level in the eastern and southern portions. The Missispipi river on the eastern boundary, the Arkansas extending across the middle portion of the state from the west, the White, between these two and their branches, drain the state and furnish 3250 miles of maighbe water ways. A great number of medicinal springs are found in the state. The most important are the Hot Springs, 55 miles southwest of Little Rock. Here, in a narrow valley, a city of 12000 has grown up with a number of fine hotels and bathing establishments and 20000 visitors annually. The climate of this region has been called the "taly of America." No over 100,000 farms. The principal products are cotton, sweet potatoes, tobacco, corn, wheat, oats, lay, mother 100,000 farms. Capital, Sacramento. Settled at San Diego by Spaniards in 1769. Population, 1,485,053. Area, 158,233 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 16,503,742; value of farm land, 8262,051,282. No state debt. Vote in 1900; Rep. 164755; Dem. 4085; Pro. 5024; Soc. Dem. 7,554.

California is bounded on the north by oregon; on the east by Nevada and Arizona; on the south by Mexico and the Pacific Ocean and on the west by the Pacific Ocean. The gold state is an empire by itself, twice as large as New England, with a thousand miles of coast. It is naturally divided into a number of regions widely different in climate, soil and products. The Pacific Stope on the west, the western Highland, the Great Valley and the Sierra Nevada mountains on the eastern border. The latter make up the highest portion of the state, the whole range is over 10000 feet high, there are many peaks 12000 to 13000 feet high and Moint Whitney is the high-set mountain in the United States, outside of Alaska, towering 14300 feet, The lest scenery is to be south, and such is story year. In these mountains in the eastern part of the state is situated Vosennite Valley, covernarkable features are the Yosemite Falls, which descends 2600 feet in the three falls: Bridal Veil Cascade with 900 feet of fall; El Capitan, a rocky sentinel 3300 feet in height; The Half Dome, extrical cliff 1500 feet high; The spires, Sentinel Rocks, Royal Arches and Mirror Lake. Death Valley is a desert in Tuolumne county. Other points of scenic interest are Bower Cave in Mariposa county, Alabaster Cave in Placer county and the Petrified Forest near San Francisco. The Great Valley between the Sierra Nevada and coast ranges, occupies 18000 square miles of the central part of the state and and shardned by the two principal ocalifornian rivers, the Sacramento and San Joaquin. The Klomate drains the northwestern corner of the state. Tulare, in Tulare county, is the largest lake in the state and fatheo, on the eastern border is the highest, with an altitude of over 6000 feet. There are a number of All kinds grown free equally well and the yearly production of deciduous fruits and reading the state of the All kinds grown here equally well and the yearly production of deciduous fruits amount to 30,000,000 pounds. Fruit canning and drying are industries of vast proportions. Over 200,000 acres are planted with young vines and the annual production of wine is now 17,000,000 gallons. There are three regions of grape culture: The Coast, the Sierra foothills and the southern section, each devoted to special varieties. California boists the largest vineyard in the world (over 4000 acres) in Tabana county and the largest wine cellar in existence (can Stockton, Fresno, Alameda and Vallejo.

Colorado is bounded on the north by Woming and Vehraska; on the east by Keraska and Kansas; on the south by Oklahoma and New Mexico and on the west by Utah. The "Silver state" is a princely domain of fertile fields, snow-covered monitains, rushing torrents, awful clasms, wild forests and highland parks. The eastern part is a vast plain, that by irrigation is being converted into fertile farms. The foothills are a series of long mountain ranges from 6500 to 8000 feet high enclosing many fertile valleys and large grains and rich in minerals and building materials. West of the foothills are the Rocky mountains, the Continental divide, with 40 peaks over 14000 feet and over 200 of 13000 feet. The highest mountain sitera Blanco (1443 feet) and other famous peaks are; Gray's Teak (1434 feet), Long's Peak (1427 feet) and Pike's Peak (1417 feet) and Pike's Peak (1417 feet). Among the mountains are a number of parks or ancient take basins. These run the whole length of the state, which is the state of t

Connecticut is bounded on the north by Massachusetts; on the east by Rhode Island; on the south by Long Island sound and on the west by New York. All the eastern and central parts of the state are low and level, but there are lines of hills in the west that continue on into Massachusetts. The highest is Bear mountain (2354 feet). Three rivers drain the state: The Thames in the east, the Connecticut in the centre and the Housatonic in the west. The Thames is navigable to Norwich and the Connecticut to Hartford. Some iron and copper was mined years ago and the red sandstone quarries are still in operation, the Portland quarries alone giving work to nearly 1000 men. There are also deposits of marble, limestone, salte and porcelain elay. There are 30000 farms in the state along the river valleys and tobacco is the chief crop, with an annual crop of 14,000,000 pounds, worth over $2,000,000. The state has some fine harbors on the sound, but the shipping is not extensive. Hartford is the home of a large number of insurance companies, which carry risks amounting to $45,000,000. Menfacturing is the leading occupation of the state and there are 100 of the principal manufactories in 20 lines, employing over 28000 people, with annual wages of $12,500,000 and an annual product of $45,000,000. The manufacture of weapons is one ef the most important by the state of the state of the most important manufactories are the silverware of Meriden, the Winchester ribes of New Haven, the Parker gruss of Meriden, the cartridges of Bridgeport, the watches and clocks of Waterbury, Bristol and Thomaston, the breveles and other iron and steel goods of Hartford, New Haven, Middletown, Torrington, Thompsonville and Willinantic, the powder of Hazardville, knives of Northfield, carpets of Thompsonville, plash and silverware of Seymour, bank not paper of Manchester, farming implements of Winsted and Higganum and bets of Thester, Connecticut has eight countries and enversagers are published in them all. Delaware is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania; on the east by Delaware bay; and on the south and west by Maryland. The second smallest state in the Union, Delaware is one of the busiest and has a great diversity of interests. The northern part of the state is hilly and contains deposits of porcelain, clay and iron ore; the southern is a low, alluvial plain. The fisheries are of considerable importance and include shad, herring, bass, terrapin, soft shell crabs and oysters. Good water power is obtained on Brandywine Creek. Delaware has 9000 farms, worth 837,000,000, on which are raised every year 4,000,000 bushels of corn, 12,000,000 bushels of wheat, large quantities of oats, sorghum, berries, dairy products, tomatoes, grapes, melons and 7,000,000 quarts of strawberries. Delaware peaches are famous. The state has 55000 acres devoted to this fruit and millions of baskets are shipped annually. On the Brandywine there are deposits of fine granite for building. Extensive brick works have grown out of the clay and kaolin beds around Wilmington. The manufactures of the state aggregate $50,000,000 a year and include iron ships, cars, iron and steel goods, powder, leather, cotton, pulp, paper, etc. There are three counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal cities and towns are: Wilmington, New Castle, Dover, Milford, Smyrna, Lewes, Delaware City, Laurel, Middletown and Scaford. Middletown and Seaford.

FLORIDA.

Capital, Tallabassee. Settled at St. Augustine by Spaniards in 1565. Population 528,542. Area, 58984 sq. mdes. Acres of farm land, 3,300,000; value of farm land, 820,000,000. State debt, $153,391. Vote in 1900; Dem. 28007; Rep. 7314; Peo. 1090. Pro. 1039. Sec. Dem. 601.

Florida is bounded on the north by Georgia and Alabama; on the east by the Atlantic ocean; on the south by Florida strait and the Gulf of Mexico and on the west by the Gulf of Mexico. This state is the scene of the wanderings of Ponce de Leon, Pantio de Narracz and De Soto and the murderous region of Menendez. It includes northern Florida, the mainland division the highest portion; middle Florida, the original peninsula, a high, rolling country, crowned with great forests of pines and hemlocks and studded with crystal lakes; and southern Florida, an immense area of low, swampy made land of comparatively recent origin, culminating in the everglades only a few feet above the sea. It is in middle Florida that most of the world Iamous resorts and the other principal islands are above the sea. It is in middle Florida that most of the world Iamous resorts of the principal islands are important and employ over 10000 men, with a yearly product world $1,000,000. The catch includes sponges, mullets, red snappers, pompano, king fish, Spanish mackeral, channel bass, blue fish, trout and oysters. Shad run in many of the rivers and gigantic sea turtles are caught off the Keys. The latter sometimes weigh $1200-1500 pounds. Lumbering is the foremost industry of the state, amounting to over $20,000,000 year. The annual farm products include 45,000,000 blashels of corn, $600,000 blashels of oats, 1,300,000 pounds of rice, 1,000,000 galons of molasses and 1500 hogsbead of sugar and considerable amounts of text, coffee, flax, hemp, barley, hops, peas and beans. The state produces 60000 bases of cotton annually, largely sea island, and pincapples, lemons. Industry of large proportions. There are 50 varieties of oranges and Florida oranges "beat the world." There ar

Georgia is bounded on the north by Tennessee and North Carolina; on the east by South Carolina and the Atlantic ocean; on the south by Florida and on the west by Alabama and Florida. The state divides naturally into three dissimilar regions known as lower, middle and upper Georgia. Lower Georgia comprises about 3500 square miles of pine barrens, sand hills, swamp belt and the Sea islands. Of the later, the most famous and one of the most beautiful is Jekyl island, the home of Oglethorpe, 150 years ago and now occupied and controlled by a wealthy club, which has splendid club houses and bathing establishment and the largest game preserve in America. There are good harbors at Savannah, Darien and St. Mary. The foreign exports amount to Constitute the of Brunswick and St. Mary's, nade up of Truits, vegetables, fish, humber, cotton and naval stores. They are considerable fisheries of nonano, red snapners, sea tront. Sunkin mackerel and green three the coasting trade of Brunswick and St. Mary's, made up of truits, vegetables, ish, uniber, cotton and naval stores. There are considerable fisheries of pompano, red snappers, sea trout, Spanish mackerel and green tur-tles. Middle Georgia comprises 15000 miles of naturally good, but impoverished soil. Upper Georgia, is the high-est part of the state and comprises 10000 square miles of the Apalachian range, cultumating in Sitting Bull in the northeast and including historic Lookout in the northwest. The state is drained by the Savannah river on the eastern border, by the Altamaha and its great confluents, the Geonee and Ocundigee; in the centre, by the Chatahooche on the southwest border and by the branches of the Tennessee in the north. All but the latter are Chatahooche on the southwest border and by the branches of the Tennessee in the north. All but the latter are navigable for considerable distances. A great variety of tree grow in the state, the most important of which commercially are pine and live oak; and 200,000,000 feet of lumber and timber, worth $7,000,000, are exported annually. From the pine barrens of lower Georgia come great quantities of tar, pitch, turpentine and rosin, which are exported from Sayannah and Brunswick. Agriculturally the state takes high place, ranking third in the Union in the production of coron, the annual exportation of which has reached 1,000,000 blacks; the annual production of coron is 30,000,000 bushes; of sweet potatoes, 5,000,000 bushes. There are also large crops of wheat, oats, clover, token an songhums, pears, process, becomes a lower of the coron tant industry in the lowlands and includes oranges, Jemons, Dananas, olives, figs, mulberries, early strawberries, and the best watermelons in the world. The annual fruit crop aggregates $10,000,000. The state has millions invested in live stock. Georgia is well stocked with minerals. There are 200 square miles of coal fields in the northwestern part of the state and $50 square miles of iron ore nearby. Immens quantities of fine marbles of many different colors are quarried at Tate and Marietta. Many other minerals abound, but not in paying quantities. There are 137 counties and newspapers are published in 129. The principal cities are: Atlanta, Savannah, Augusta, Macon, Columbus, Athens, Brunswick, Rome, Americus and Griffin.

IDAHO.

Capital, Boise City. Settled at Fort Hall by Americans in 1834. Population, 161,772, Area, 83828 sq. miles, Acres of farm land, 328,000; value of farm land, $2,800,000. State debt, $319,190.36. Vote in 1900; Dem. 2004-6; Rep. 27198; Peo. 213. Tro. 857.

Idaho is bounded on the north by British Columbia and Montana; on the east by Montana and Wyoming; on the south by Utah and Nevada and on the west by Oregon and Washington. Idaho is a great wedge-shape plateau, with an average elevation of nearly 5000 feet and rising to 10000 feet among the Rocky mountains on the east. The Snake river, with its tributaries, drains the state. The scenery along this stream is grand and picturesque. There are wild gorges and precipitous falls, all along its upper course and Shoshone Falls compare with Niagara in grandeur. The river at this point is 950 feet wide and the caracte is a third higher than its eastern rival. The lakes of Idaho are among the the most beautiful to be found anywhere. Bear, Pend Creilles and Cœur-d'Alene are the most famous. Steamers run on the Snake review between Lewiston and Riporia on the Lower Clear water between Lewiston and the lower fork, on Cœur-d'Alene lake and river and on Lake Pend 'Orielles. The Saw Tooth and other detached ranges in the centre divide the state into two dissimilar regions. The northern portion contains millions of acres of good farming and grazing land; the southern part is a dry lava plain, excepting regions near the rivers where irrigation has been profitably employed. similar regions. The northern portion contains millions of acres of good farming and grazing land; the south-ern part is a dry lava plain, excepting regions near the rivers where irrigation has been profitably employed. The state produces annually 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, 1,300,000 bushels of oats, large crops of barley, pota-toes and hay and $1,000,000 worth of fruit. There are 600,000 horses and cathe and 350,000 sheep. The latter shear 2,000,000 pounds of wool a year. The mines of Idaho have produced $170,000,000 in precious metals. Besides these there are mines of copper, iron, coal and mica. There are extensive marble quarries on the Snake river and granite, limestone and sandstone are plentiful. The production of sail from Saline springs is 2,000,000 pounds a year. The flouring mills produce $81,000,000 worth of goods annually. Idaho has 2 counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal towns are: Boise City, Pocatello, Hailey, Lewiston, Montpelier, Weiser, Idaho Falls, Grangeville, Backfoot, Joseow and Woods.

Publisher's Statement.—The Journal does not pretend to be the only pebble on the beach, even in its own field. There are others. It has no exclusive control of any portion of the earth's surface. It has no trol of any portion of the earth's surface. It has no cinch on the advertisers of this country, or on any of them. It is just a fair country daily, able to give a good service in its field, which is the garden-pot of the Mississippi valley. Here we have fertile acres, many factories and stout banks. The Journal wants all the decent advertising it can get at eard rates but not a line below those rates. That's all !

INDIAN TERRITORY.

Capital, Tahlequah. Settled at Old Agency by Creek Indians in 1827. Population, 392,060. Area, 31154

sq. mifes.
Indian Territory is bounded on the north by Kansas; on the east by Missouri and Arkansas; on the south by Texas and on the west by Oklahoma. This region is the home of five tribes or nations of civilized Indians, the Cherokees, Chickasawas, Creeks, Choctaws and seminoles and all have newspapers. It is made up of prairies, river valleys and timber lands. It is drained by the Arkansas river and its branches and the Washita river. The territory has nearly 14000 square miles of coal fields yielding bituminous coal of a good quality. Iron, lead, copper, gold, marble and asandstone are found in small quantities. There are over 40000 acres under cultivation and corn, wegetables, cotton and hay are produced to the value of $5(000.000 annually. Millions of feet of lumquantities. The principal settlements are: Lehigh, McAlester, Krebs, Musscogee, Turcell, Vinita, Tahlequah, Ardmore, Atoka and Eufahla. Ardmore, Atoka and Eufaula.

Publisher's Statement.- The Ottumwa Courier is the only daily newspaper in a city of 20,000 people, where a few years ago there were four. For fifty years it has been one of Iowa's leading dailies, and its circulation is sworn to and open to investigation at any time. The semi-weekly Courier is lowa's great-est mail order medium of its class. It reaches well-to-do farmers who can and do buy advertised arti-cles. The Courier stands alone in its field. The Courier's prestige and character of circulation are unsurpassed.

Publishers Statement.—The Christian Observer is the oldest religious newpaper in the world—established September 4, 1813. It has several thousand subscribers in whose homes it has been read for thirty or forty years. This long acquaintance with its columns has created a confidence in it that makes it one of the best advertising mediums. It reaches the wealthiest and the best educated class of people in the South. It is the highest priced religious paper in the Southern States, and the man who can afford to patronize the business men whose advertisement appear in its columns.

LOUISIANA.

Capital, Baton Rouge. Settled at Biloxi by Frenchmen in 1699. Population, 1,381,625. Area, 49626 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 8,273,506; value of farm land, 8,58,989,117; annual value of farm products, 842,883,522. State debt, $12,513,214,92. Vote in 1900: Dem, 53671; Rep. 14233. Louisana is bounded on the north by Arkansas and Missis-sippi; on the east by Missis-sippi; on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and on the west by Texas. The land slopes gradually from an elevation of about 500 feet in the north to sea level in the south, where the lowlands and swamps cover 20000 square miles. North of this lowland region there are 25000 square miles of upland prairies and forests. The Missis-sippi river flows along the eastern border and crosses the lower part of the state and with its branches and the smaller streams of the southwest, with their mnumerable lagoous and bayous, the state has nearly 4000 miles of internal navigation, more than any other state in the Union. The bottom lands along these waters comprise nearly 5,000,000 acres of fertile soil and there is almost as large an area in the coast marsh. One half of the state is covered with forests of vellow pine and it is estimated they will cut 5,000,000,000,000 feet. There are also large and valuable forests of express, live oak, palmettoes and magnolias. Agriculture is the leading industry of the state. In the low regions rice and sigar cane are the great crops, while corn, cotton, cats and sweet postatoes are raised in the uplands further north. Live stock number 1,500,000 head, worth $24,000,000. Southern Louislana grows figs, bananas, peaches, plums, quarres and other fruits and oranges are grown along the lower Missispipi. Extensive crops of early vegetables also are raised for the northern market. There are 50000 people on the rice plantations and the product smethods read and are engaged in sugar raising and clear annual flumors, and the destroated and sugar. There are 50000 people on an annual cut and nearly plantations and one of plantations and one towns are: New Orleans, Shreveport Iberia, Natchitoches and Thibodeaux.

The northern part is high and broken here and after the reason that drain the state, the former on the northern part and an army of lumbermen find employment felling the trees and floating the logs down the 81, John's, Penolscot, Kennebee and Andrescoggin and sinaller strains that drain the state, the former on the northernstern side and the others on the south. This region is the paradise of sportsmen from all parts of the country who take advantage of the abundance of deer, mose and other game and the great quantity of fish in the lakes and streams. The ground slopes gradually from the highland to the coast and considerable tracts of fertile farming and grazing lands are found in the river valleys. With a width of 270 miles along the coast, Maine, has actually, including the islands, 2500 miles of shore, everywhere bold, rocky and picturesque; hence the commercial progress of the state and her faune as a summer resort. On Mt. Desert, the largest of the islands is Bar Harbor, a summer resort of international repute. Penolscot, Frenchman's, Pleasmant, Passanoquoddy, Machias, Muscongus, Casco and Saco are the principal bays. The largest lake is Moosehead, in a famous summer resort region; others are the Rangeleys, well known as a fishing ground and the Grand lakes. Of Maine's many industries the most important are agriculture, manufacturing, lumbering, fish canning, fruit and vegetable canning, ship building, brick and tile making, printing and publ

Publisher's Statement.—The Lewiston Weekly Journal is the largest and most complete newspaper printed in Maine. A recent examination showed that it had good lists at every post office in the state, save in a few places much French-speaking settlements in northern Maine. The Lewiston Evening Journal prints four editions daily, circulating in all the principal towns in Maine, by the several trains that radiate from Lewiston. Advertisers wishing to cover the state cannot do so so successfully as by the use of the Journal, Daily, Saturday and Weekly. use of the Journal, Daily, Saturday and Weekly.

Massachusetts is bounded on the north by New Hampshire and Vermont; on the east by the Atlantic ocean; on the sonth by the Atlantic ocean, Rhode Island and Connecticut; and on the west by New York. Though there are no high mountains in the Bay state nearly its entire area is hilly and broken. The region of the Berkshires, in the western part of the state, extending to the New York Dorder and culminating in Greylock (3525 feet), is the highest part of the state, and has become the summer home of many of the wealthiest families in the country who have built splendid country places at Williamstown, Lenox and Stockbridge. The central part of the state is drained by the Connecticut river, which crosses the state north and south and by a uniber of its branches. The western part is drained by the Hoosick and Housatonic rivers; and the eastern by the Merrimack and numerous short streams, which are the hosick and Housatonic rivers; and the eastern by the Merrimack and numerous short streams, which are the hosick and Housatonic rivers; and the eastern by the Merrimack and numerous short streams, which are the hosick and Housatonic rivers; and the eastern by the Merrimack and numerous short streams, which are the hosick and Housatonic rivers; and the eastern by the Merrimack and numerous short streams. Publisher's Statement.—The Woman's Journal gives its readers every week the latest and most complete news of what women are doing in this and other countries outside of their homes in the active work of countries outside of their homes in the active work of the world. It is the only paper that devotes itself to this speciality. It has subscribers and readers in every state in the union, and correspondents in Great Britain, France, Germany, Canada, Mexico and South America. Founded by Lucy Stone in 1870, it has never failed to appear every Saturday since 1870. It contains state correspondence and weekly news from the National Suffrage, the "ad" quarters No. 2008 American Tract Society, New York. Each number con-American fract Society, as whors. Each number con-tains also a story, a children's column, and reviews of new books. The paper is the official representative of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

Publisher's Statement.—The Detroit Times guarantees superior effectiveness in two distinct fields. First, in the city of Detroit, one of the strongest centers of unionism in the United States, the Times is ters of unionism in the United scales, the finites is the only paper entitled to the use of the Finion label. In spirit and tone the Times bears a close and friendly relation to this splendid constituency. Sec-ond, on the free rural delivery routes of Michigan the Times is going daily to 10,000 prosperous farmers in a great farming state, to whom the paper has com-mended itself by its advocacy for the rights and interests of the common people

Publisher's Statement.—The Evening Press has had a phenomenal growth. We have watched its circulation grow from 7,000 to the present 35,000 mark, and during this time we have used its columns for a varied class of advertising business. Furthermore, we have yet to find an evening newpaper which with a like appropriation will sell as many goods in their particular field. It covers the territory more closely than any newspaper we know of in cities of 100,000 population or more. It circulates 20,000 papers in Grand Rapids, which is about one to every house, and with the rural and interurban routes, 15,000 sub-scribers have been added to the city circulation with in a radius of 150 miles of Grand Rapids. We will gladly vouch for its circulation, its character and its value as an advertising medium

Labor 1329.

Labor 1729.

Minnesota is bounded on the north by Canada; on the east by Lake Superior and Wisconsin; on the south by lowa and on the west by the Dakotas. This state is a vast undulating plain from 800 to 1000 feet high and gradually rising to about 1500 feet on the Height of Land, the watershed that separates the northern slope from the southern and eastern. The northern slope comprises the great plains and forests of the Red River and Rainy Lake country; the southern slope includes the prairies and woods of the Mississippi valley and the eastern slope, covering the Lake Superior region, rich in minerals and clad with forests. The Mississippi river rises in Itasca Lake in the north. This mighty stream and the Red and Minnesota, with their branches keep the state abundantly watered and furnish 1500 miles of river navigation. The beautiful Minnelaha Falls near Fort Sacelling are famed in song and story and the state abundant in rapids, east-ade and covers and has 10000 crystal lakes. Many of the latter are ploutifully stocked with fish and situated in regions abounding in while game, are border and perhaps the most beautiful is Lake Minnetonika, a favorite sunner resort, near Minneapolis. Though not the largest producer of wheat, Minnesota is probably the best known in this connection and the Red Riter valley produces the best quality of wheat in the world. The state raises annually 70,000,000 bushels of wheat, 65,000,000 bushels of corn and 30,000,000 bushels of barley and large crops of flaxseed, buckwheat, trye and potatoes. The growing of apples, grapes, strawferries and other fruits is also of wheat, 65,000,000 bushels of coats, 35,000,000 bushels of corn and 30,000,000 bushels of barley and large crops of flaxseed, burkwheat, yet and potators. The growing of apples, grapes, strawberries and other fruits is also an important pursuit. There are nearly 2,000,000 head of live stock in the state and the annual production of butter amounts to 200,000,000 pounds and of cheese to 1,500,000 pounds. There are great forests on the upper Missistippi, 8t. Croix and Red rivers and the state has produced 472,000,000 feet of lumber and 180,000,000 shingles in one year. Care is taken to keep up the timber supply by tree planting and over 30,000,000 have already been set out in the open country. Minnesota produces nearly 1,000,000 tons of excellent iron a year and there are goodly stores of pink and cream limestone, glass and clay. Large quarries of brown stone are near Fond du Lac. Cement is made at Mankato and a fine grade of granite of several colors, is quarried at 8t. Cloud. At Pipestone City is the "Red Pipestone quarry" familiar to readers of Hiawatha. The population of this state embraces two distinct classes, the Americans of New England ancestry and the thousands of Swedes, Norwegians, and Danes. The manufactures include flour, packed meats, lumber and others of minor importance. Minneapolis is the largest flouring city and has the largest flouring company and the bargest mili in the world. The Peavy system of elevators, with plants at different points throughout the state, has a capacity of 10,000,000 bushels. There are 82 counties and newspapers are published no 80 of them. The principal cities are: Minneapolis, 8t. Paul, Duluth, Winona, Stillwater, Mankato, 8t. Cloud, Faribault, Red Wing and Rochester. Rochester.

Publisher's Statement. The Farmer circulates Publisher's Statement. The Farmer circulates chiefly in Minnesota and the Northwest covering particularly the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, the two Dakotas, and Northern lowa, with considerable circulation in other states. About one-half the circulation is in Minnesota. The Farmer reaches an unusually good class of agricultural homes in its territory. Its editor is Prof. Thomas Shaw, recently of the University of Minnesota, who is doubtless the best-known writer on agricultural subjects in the country. The Farmer carries regularly a larger amount of adversising than any other farm maker in Winnesota or the tising than any other farm paper in Minnesota or the Northwest
